

Progress report on SRI collaborative project up to 17th Aug, 2012 from AP SRI Consortium

Department of Agriculture, Government of Andhra Pradesh has taken up a collaborative program to strengthen SRI with the support from NFSM, NABARD and AP SRI Consortium. It is implementing in four districts namely, Medak, Mahabubnagar, Nalgonda and Khammam; targeting 4000ha i.e 1000ha per district, spread over 10 blocks of 100 ha each 15 NGOs were selected to implement the program by a panel of members from AP SRI Consortium. These NGOs are implementing the program in all the four districts.

Progress:

- Presently, the total area of SRI under this program for the Kharif season is 585 Acres transplanted and 218 Acre nursery beds raised total 803 acres.
- In Rabi season 2011, we have reached only 50% of the target area.
- The present status of the SRI is the transplantation is 65% completed, but 35% of the total area is under nursery beds.
- WUA-1 and SWEET organisation did not start the transplantation.
- All NGOs were updating the Monitoring data through SMS and jaisri google group mail.
- ARDS, BALAVIKAS, WUA-2 and CHESTD-1 NGO did not start the work yet, because drought situation.

Issues and Concerns:

- JDAs, PD/ATMAs don't have clarity on departmental share in this project still. There is a need to clarify them.
- Budget delays from JDA's and PD/ATMA.
- Communication material and Website Development: It is suggested earlier by the Department that AP SRI Consortium will be given this responsibility along with the budgets. Decision need to be taken on this followed by necessary action.
